

New Policy - Labs Receiving The Duke Cancer Center Discount

April 15, 2004

The Duke University Cancer Center (DUCC) has instructed us that, effective immediately, only “peer-reviewed” DUCC members are eligible to receive the DUCC price discount for DNA sequencing.

This is a change from the previous policy that all DUCC members were eligible to receive a discount.

The DUCC provides us with a list to determine who is eligible to receive the discount. This is how we determine who is qualified.

If you feel the list is in error, you should contact the DUCC and ask them to send us a correction.

We must hear directly from the DUCC regarding any corrections. Just telling us you qualify is not sufficient.
